Beach City Club Will Meet Tanners In Season's Opening Game

Bill Seeglitz, fresh from an unexpected win over Marblehead last week, brings his club to Revere to continue what he hopes will be a banner season for Peabody.

Coach Bill Kenneally of Revere has different ideas. Bill came within an eyelash last year of copping the Class B honors (or at least tying Melrose for the honors). A tough break at Saugus licked Bill, and he was the victim of one of those things that torment coaches every season. This year Revere has a relatively green team. The boys are big here and there, but on the whole, inexperienced. Bill Seeglitz, on the other hand has some big boys who are fast and experienced. He has dug up a sophomore back in Bob O'Connor who will give All-Scholastic aspirants plenty of competition this year. This is the boy to watch, although Tony Kravchuk will cause plenty of trouble to the Revere defense.

As for Revere, little can be said until the boys have had at least one game under their belts. One thing is certain, and that is that Coach Keannelly will have a smooth and efficient organization wearing the Blue and White. His is a team that will bear watching later in the season, even if it does not set the world on fire in the opener.

Do not by any means sell Revere short. Peabody must, of course, rate favorite in this tussle, but Revere may very easily spring a surprise.

NOTES

If you want to see good football you need not leave Revere this year. Faculty Manager Charlie Doherty has arranged an excellent schedule, with such teams as Saugus, Salem, Peabody and Everett to come here. There is no school in Eastern Massachusetts that can offer a better home schedule.

Bill Keannelly, like Eddie Pidgeon of Medford, and one or two others, has a tough schedule to play, but he is equal to it. You cannot win them all. When someone asked Eddie Pidgeon if he expected to duplicate last year's Medford record (Eastern Mass. Champs) he replied, "When you have the players winning is easy. When you haven't, just try and win." That's about the story. Dave Gavin at Melrose has about the same type of material this year that Pidgeon had at Medford last year. Bill Keannelly would give a lot for half the material that Gavin will be able to field.

The place at which the game with Lynn Classical will be played had not at this writing been decided. Please consult this program and local papers for the final word on this game.

An interesting innovation will be introduced in Lynn this year. English and Classical are toying with the idea of early evening games, beginning at six o'clock. The idea is Bill Joyce's. No one knows how it will work out, but it is possible that Revere will be one of the teams selected to participate in the innovation, if it is finally carried out.
